ARGUMENT ON RAPID TRANSIT CASE MONDAY

Final Decision of Supreme Court in Important Case Expected Within Few Days

An early decision is predicted in the case of the territory against the Honolulu Rapid Transit & Land Company, an action for injunction, for the reason that the supreme court has set aside next Monday morning for the argument. The argument is scheduled to begin at 10 o'clock and may last throughout the day.

The Rapid Transit case was brought about when Attorney-general L. M. Stainback, representing the territory, brought suit in circuit court to enjoin the company from further increasing its capital stock. After a hearing, which lasted a considerable period, Circuit Judge Stuart found for the corporation. The territory took the case to the supreme court on appeal.

In the argument Monday the Rapid Transit Company will be represented by the law firms of Castle & Withington, and Frenz, Prosser, Anderson & Marx. The attorney-general and the law firm of Holmes & Olson will appear for the territory.

ST. ELIZABETH'S WILL ENTERTAIN

Chinese characters will be seen at Davies Memorial hall on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock and the Chinese "Jarley Waxworks" will be a feature one of the attractions will be the fan and lantern drill from the Chinese opera, "The Feast of the Little Lanterns," and with them will be a Chinese solo dancer in rich apparel, and all will wish to see this gorgeous lady. This number will open the entertainment. The Chinese "Madam Jarley" will present her Chinese characters for the first time in this country. She has brought with her Lei Hung Chang, a dancing beauty, who will dance as soon as she is wound up; a bride and her maid, six musicians, several tea drinkers, a cobbler, a doctor, a merchant, a vegetable vender, a barber and others.

The school children have group songs and drills, dialogues and recitations, and a play, "The Dolls' Hospital."

The whole setting will be very attractive. Mrs. Walter Coombs has transformed the stage into a bit of Chinese scenery. There is amusement for old and young, large and small and the price of admittance is only 25 cents.

There will be ice cream and home-made candy for sale. Miss Anna S. Drau, the principal of St. Elizabeth's, has planned and arranged the entire entertainment and gratefully acknowledges that much of her success is due to the cooperation and untiring efforts of a number of ladies who have given lavishly of time and means to manifest their interest in St. Elizabeth's.

KING'S DAUGHTERS ARE HOSTESSES TO MEN WHO BUILT NEW HOME

To show their appreciation of the careful and faithful work that has been done on their new home in Kaimuki the King's Daughters gave a chicken dinner last night to the architects, contractors and workmen, a dinner which was greatly enjoyed by the men who felt deeply the kind feelings which the King's Daughters showed in tendering the dinner.

The dinner was served on the lanai which runs the entire length of the home to about 45 persons. It was the first entertainment given by the King's Daughters and was, in a way, to celebrate the completion of their new home at Kaimuki.

Following the dinner D. C. Peters, superintendent of the building, after an address in which he thanked the workers for the excellent job which they had accomplished, called upon C. B. Ripley, the architect who made the plans for the institution, Jack Lucas, the contractor who erected the new home, T. H. Matthews, foreman of the men, and Geo. Smith, who answered for the workmen. All made short speeches telling how pleased they were that they were able to participate in the erecting of the fine building.
